

Mayor's Message: January 2011

Mayor Russ Wall

As another year comes to an end, it's time to reflect on past events. We are now busy with the holiday hustle and bustle and enjoying the company of family and friends. It will soon be time to begin a new year. Take a moment to think about what's really important and set some goals for the future.

Our families and friends make life worthwhile, but we should also remember others. During the upcoming year, visit someone who may be lonely, and lend a hand to someone who could use some help. It doesn't take much to be a good neighbor.

Let's also remember the men and women who are serving our country in the military. Because of their efforts to protect our freedoms, we can enjoy time with our families. Do something nice for their families here at home.

We appreciate the many positive things that are happening as a result of the good works of the people of our community. Acts of kindness to others make a difference in our neighborhoods, our community and our country.

We wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!
