

Volunteer Award of Excellence Gordon Wolf

Presented by Council Member Ernest Burgess

Gordon brings years of experience and professionalism to Taylorsville. He currently serves as a member of the Arts Council, which means he is busy all the time. No sooner does the Arts Council finish one event, then they are busy planning the next production, symphony, or art show.

Having a new Performing Art Center under construction in our front yard is amazing to watch.

What is just as incredible is Gordon's hands on involvement in helping to plan this state-of-the-art facility. He faithfully attended committee meetings for a more than a year before any dirt turned on the project.

Let's not forget his years of service as a member of the Budget Committee. Gordon always has an eye for the bottom line and helps keeps us fiscally responsible. In his spare time, Taylorsville Dayzz is always on his mind. As a member of the Dayzz committee, he spends countless hours in the planning and execution of this spectacular June event.

In his other spare time, Gordon looks out for Taylorsville's interest as he serves on the Salt Lake County Cultural Facilities Board and the County ZAP Tier II board. Each of these committees requires many meetings and countless hours of work.

Gordon is an inspiration to all of us and we are happy to present him with the Volunteer Award of Excellence
