All new business licenses are subject to approval from the Taylorsville Planning and Zoning Division, Taylorsville Building Division, Taylorsville Police Department, Unified Fire Authority, and Salt Lake Valley Health Department prior to the issuance of a business license and commencement of commercial operations.

Step 4: Issue Business License. Once approved, the business license will be issued to the address provided on the business license application. Typically a business license will be issued 10-14 days following the date of application. For businesses that involve food, offer cosmetology services, or are classified as conditional uses, the approval process may take longer. For more information regarding conditional uses and the conditional use permit process, please see Taylorsville Information Form P-5 Applying for a Conditional Use Permit.

Business License Renewals:

All Taylorsville business licenses must be renewed annually. The City will mail a renewal notice approximately one month prior to the expiration date of the current license. To avoid late fees, business owners must return the business license renewal notice prior to the renewal deadline. Please note that although the City sends renewal notices to all businesses prior to the expiration of the current license it is ultimately the responsibility of the business owner to insure that the business license is renewed prior to the expiration date.

Avoiding Common Problems:

The City of Taylorsville recognizes that the timely issuance of business licenses is of the utmost importance to many business owners. As a result it is recommended that applicants for a new business license consider the following factors that could result in unwanted delays in the approval process:

- Land use and zoning complications. To insure that a business is permitted at the proposed location, please contact the Taylorsville Planning and Zoning Division regarding your business use and location.
- Building improvements. Tenant improvements to commercial spaces often require a building permit and certificate of occupancy prior to the commencement of business operations. Before beginning any building improvements, contact the Taylorsville Building Division for more information.
- Health Department approval. All businesses in Taylorsville require Health Department approval. Please note that some businesses such as restaurants, bakeries, and beauty salons have strict and specific regulations. Contact the Salt Lake Valley Health Department for more information.
- Unified Fire Authority inspection. All businesses must pass an on-site inspection by the Unified Fire Authority. Common problems include missing or unlighted exit signs, blocked exit corridors, lack of approved fire extinguishers, and non-functioning fire suppression sprinklers. Contact the Unified Fire Authority for more information.
